Technology

LightStim MultiWave® Patented Technology simultaneously emits multiple wavelengths (colors) of light.

Recovery Loop emits light energy that reduces pain and increases local blood circulation. This increased circulation accelerates your body's recovery process and relieves minor muscle and joint pain and stiffness, minor arthritic pain, and relaxes muscles.

Real Results

This non-invasive and chemical-free treatment has numerous studies showing no negative side effects. LED light therapy was originally used by NASA for wound healing in space. Today, it is used by medical professionals to aid in the body's natural recovery process. LED light therapy has been clinically proven to be safe and effective.

Soothe your tired muscles, aches, and pains.
Increase blood circulation and recover faster.
